MACHRIHANISH DUNES

In Scotland, true links courses are not created, they are born from the land.

Here, on the outer fringes of the west of Scotland on the Mull of Kintyre, where the movements of sea, sand and wind have intertwined over countless centuries, a landscape has been crafted; a landscape perfectly and naturally suited to the purest form of the royal and ancient game of golf.

It's one of the last remaining natural links sites in the homeland that gave golf to the rest of the world.

This is where the ancient traditions of the game are now finding a renewed spirit of awareness. Where "Old Tom" meets "New Kidd"; specifically, David McLay Kidd, another Scotsman with the same professional eye and the same sense of place who will bring out the best of this unique and precious landscape.

This is the way golf began. This is Machrihanish Dunes.

FEATURES AND BENEFITS

Machrihanish Dunes is located on 259 acres of pristine links land in Machrihanish, Scotland.

Machrihanish Dunes is the first championship links golf course built on a Site of Special Scientific interest (SSSi) in over 100 years. It is also the first 18-hole links golf course to be built on the west coast of Scotland in 100 years.

While the original site featured 23 "natural" holes, architect and Scotsman David McLay Kidd (who is internationally acclaimed for his design of Bandon Dunes in Oregon and the 7th Course at St. Andrews, known as The Castle), chose his 18 favourites. Machrihanish Dunes measures 7,175 yards and will feature six greens and five tees at the ocean's edge. Machrihanish Dunes is a true testament to "the way golf began".

In a world with over 32,000 golf courses, the development of an authentic links course (there are only 270 in the world) on the west coast of Scotland is most unique.

Machrihanish Dunes is located on the Atlantic Ocean adjacent to the world-famous Machrihanish Golf Club designed in 1876 by "Old Tom" Morris. Machrihanish GC is a perennial Top 100 Course in the World and is always on the "short list" of serious golfers worldwide. Machrihanish GC is known among other things for arguably having "the best opening hole in golf". The town of Machrihanish will offer the best of links golf – "Old Tom" & New Kidd.

With its oceanfront location, Machrihanish Dunes has stellar views of the Atlantic Ocean, the Paps of Jura (the mountains to the west) and the northern coast of Ireland. Its natural location has afforded Machrihanish Dunes with one of the finest dune structures in the United Kingdom. "Old Tom" Morris wrote of the natural land in Machrihanish: "The Almighty maun hae had gowf in his e'e when he made this place."

The adjacent town of Campbeltown is most notable for its famed Springbank Distillery and for the fact that, from 1849 to 1916, the town boasted 32 distilleries which made it the whisky capital of the world. Its location in Kintyre was made famous by resident Sir Paul McCartney's immortal songs "The Long and Winding Road" and "Mull of Kintyre".
